ROBERT J. GATES JR.
Sometimes the Father, who is Mother too, in the home of "the little ones" commissions a baby to prophesy on earth. Is that too burdensome a word to employ in this relation? Commission a baby? Seemingly the word is too mature but practically it is well chosen. So it was fulfilled on June 12th, 1920 when Robert J. Gates, Jr., came to this home. He was a healthy child and of a most lovable disposition. Wherever such babies are they bring cheer to the hearts of those who love them. The love they evoke in us is too often unrecognized as a home sickness for the kingdom of innocence and God.

Robert's little sister, Virginia, had come less than two years before. Together they brought messages of a better world than this. What those were no one knows so well as their parents, Robert and Marie Gates. The emotions of selfishness, the loving sacrifices, the thoughtful planning for the future, what are these but reminders of God?

When the Father recalled Robert Jr. on Wednesday, November 3rd after scarcely five months here he did so with tender sympathy. "Like as a father pitieth his children," said the psalmist. "It is not the Father's pleasure that one should perish," said Jesus. We can know a little about natural laws yet we do not understand the reasons of the Infinite. We only know that we cannot drift beyond His love and care."

Card of Thanks
We are deeply grateful for the kindnesses and expressions of sympathy which have been shown to us in this time of our great sorrow.

In this case the plaintiff sought to collect for a bill of cigars which the plaintiff claimed never to have received. After hearing testimony of witnesses the Court on motion took the case from the jury and directed a verdict for the defendant. No cause for action.

The Court dismissed the jury subject to call Wednesday afternoon.

The Sheriff's office took Mark Skeffington of Toledo into custody brought him to Wauseon last Wednesday and lodged him in the county jail. Skeffington was convicted in the Fulton County Court last spring of the theft of an automobile belonging to Hauley Mann of Wauseon and sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory; his case was appealed and the Court of Appeals recently sustained the finding of the Common Pleas Court. Skeffington is awaiting sentence.

WHY?
For years Train Sixteen on the New York Central Lines has made a stop at Wauseon and for years Wauseon people have largely patronized this train making the average patronage at least equal to that from any county seat town on the line. Now this train stop has been discontinued at Wauseon and the train stops at Archbold instead. The Commerce Club of Wauseon in behalf of the citizens of the town are asking why?

Lessons In OPTOMETRY

Is there a class of people who are especially subject to eye strain? Yes, those who do near work, such as reading, sewing or desk work, naturally are liable to strain their eyes.

Is it possible for a person whose eyes are normal to have eye strain? Yes, the class referred to above, constant readers, or writers or those whose work requires constant near use of the eyes, often have eye strain, even though their eyes are normal.

What relief has Optometry to offer to those who have normal sight, yet who suffer from eyes train by reason of the excessive near work they do? Glasses can be prescribed for near use only and the wearing of such would help their eyes greatly and prevent the strain.
